Dulles Rail Construction to Cause Metro Services Disruptions between East and West Falls Church Stations Next Two Weekends

Dulles Rail Project construction will disrupt Metro service between the East Falls Church and West Falls Church-VT/UVA Metrorail stations this coming weekend, March 11 -13, and the following weekend, March 18-20.

To help riders get through the work zone, Metro will operate free shuttle buses between the East Falls Church and West Falls Church-VT/UVA Metrorail stations. Customers should add an extra 30 minutes into their travel plans if they need to pass through the work zone.

Starting at 10 p.m., Friday, March 11 until closing (midnight) on Sunday, March 13, and again the following weekend, the Orange Line will be split in two sections, the first running from Vienna/Fairfax-GMU to West Falls Church-VT/UVA Metrorail stations, and the second between the New Carrollton and East Falls Church Metrorail stations. The East Falls Church and West Falls Church-VT/UVA Metrorail stations will remain open.
